

Introduction

The Securities Regulations, Ethics and Marketing Series Examination is intended to give candidates a broader understanding of laws and regulations governing Sri Lanka's securities industry. Professionals working in the capital market industry will benefit from taking Securities Regulations, Ethics and Marketing examination. This examination is also open to the general public.